THE GREEN GUIDE

CONNECTING LOCAL RESIDENTS AND BUSINESSES

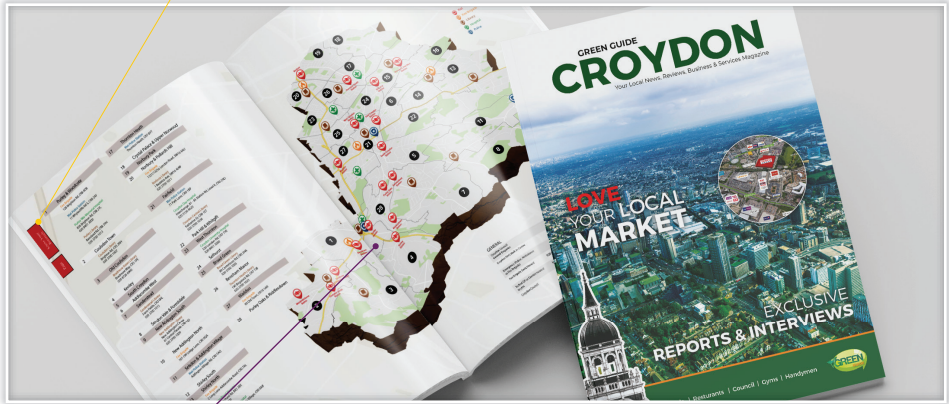

We believe community is key. We want to enable residents to know, who they can go to, who they can turn to and who they can connect with.

- ▶ READERSHIP - This magazine focuses on residents and aims to provide them with important information and messages from the local businesses and the council. Ultimately, the goal is to enhance the readership of the magazine.
- ▶ CONNECT - A local magazine enables you to communicate directly to new and existing customers in the local area.
- ▶ EXPOSURE - A magazine only has a few advertisements per page thus, when advertising in a magazine substantially increases exposure.
- ▶ TRUST - Readers are likely to display higher levels of trust to the businesses advertised within a magazine that provides important sources of local information.
- ▶ ACCESSIBILITY - In printed magazines, your adverts can reach new audiences, particularly local residents who do not regularly access online content.

THE GREEN GUIDE

A PATHWAY FOR COMMUNITY GROWTH

Advantages of working together with the Green Guide team for your marketing needs rather than traditional local publications:

- ▶ HASSLE FREE - The Green Guide magazine is a one-stop-shop for design, print and door to door distribution, giving residents and businesses a single point of contact, reducing stress and giving you a more fluid, streamlined marketing process.
- ▶ RETENTION - The Green Guide is a high-end quality printed magazine which has many useful features for residents, thus it is designed to ensure that residents keep it. Residents are less likely to discard the magazine if it looks appealing and they will keep it for future use as it brings convenience into their everyday lives.
- ▶ CAPITALIZE - It is usually the case that, when canvassing local houses, you will have to deal with complaints pertaining to distribution, most of which have nothing to do with your brand or service being offered. When advertising in the Green Guide, however, this is not the case. In fact residents will get in touch with the Green Guide customer service team if they have any complaints with distribution. Our friendly, professional customer service team will respond and resolve any complaints that may arise.
- ▶ TRANSPARENCY - The Green Guide campaign can be accessed via the online portal system, where you can locate daily reports, distribution maps and other information pertaining to distribution that can enable you to track and calculate responses.
- ▶ EXPANSION - We believe that the Green Guide magazine is a more convenient, efficient way of communicating with local residents and reaching new customers whilst keeping brand names alive.
- ▶ BRAND POSITIONING - As well as creating a listing in the Green Guide magazine, businesses will also be given a FREE premium listing in the Green Guide online directory. This will direct more traffic to you and help to build and strength your company's position as a key player in the local area that is well known to local residents.
- ▶ PROFITABILITY - Although it differs on the volumes used, the Green Guide will be an excellent, cost-effective addition to your marketing mix.

- EXPERIENCE - Over the last 7 years, Local Green Guide t/a LGG Marketing has been operating as a design, print and door to door distribution company in the UK. Our dedicated management team has been working the distribution industry for more than three decades and works collaboratively with various local authorities, communication companies and well-known national brands.
- REFORESTATION - For every publication made, the Green Guide team re-plant trees to ensure that we are being environmentally friendly and sustainable. The team are making significant efforts to reduce their carbon footprint as much as possible.
- EQUALITY - LGG Marketing has a diverse team with all staff members being paid the National Minimum Wage or higher for their services.

ADVERT DESIGN

Readers and customers want an advert to catch their eye and we recommend that your advert consists of content that a reader can gain useful information from. To maximise your exposure we recommend that your advert;

- ▶ Be original
- ▶ Have high-quality images and content.
- ▶ Contain insightful content with the subliminal impact of selling a product or service.

TABLE-1

*Price subject to change – the prices provided are our projected advertisement costs but due to the well-documented, dramatic price increase in energy markets and the increase in paper supply costs in the UK, this may be subject to change.

Table 1 above shows an illustration of how much it would traditionally cost you to print and distribute A6, A5 and A4 leaflets to households. The following are assumptions made;

- ▶ All 3 different print sizes A6, A5 & A4 are based on single-sided print, silk, 200gsm.
- ▶ Whilst some of you may typically print DL, square or menu sizes as well as matt and laminate finishes, these would typically cost you even more than the illustration above.
- ▶ We have given various quantities for this illustration with the above prices based on clustered distributions. If you only canvass a niche market within a borough you would typically need to use the post office where your costs could easily be 50p per piece of media (just for postage). Other businesses may typically target more residents within a borough i.e. 30K, 50K, 100K even the entire borough in which case the Green Guide magazine will provide you with a lot more value for your money.
- ▶ Even at the entry-level example of merely printing and distributing 10k pieces of media you are already quids up!
